Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2012

Allis Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 457 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr* Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2012

Cherokee Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 661 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2012

Cross Country Planning District

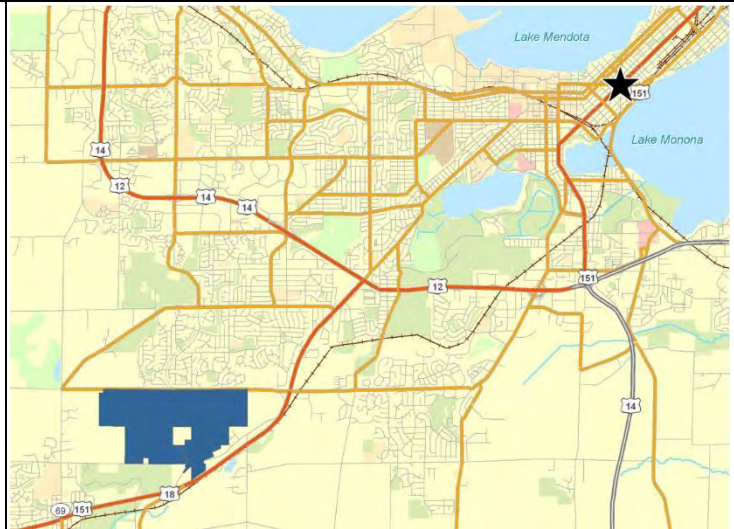

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 1,030 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2012

Elderberry Planning District

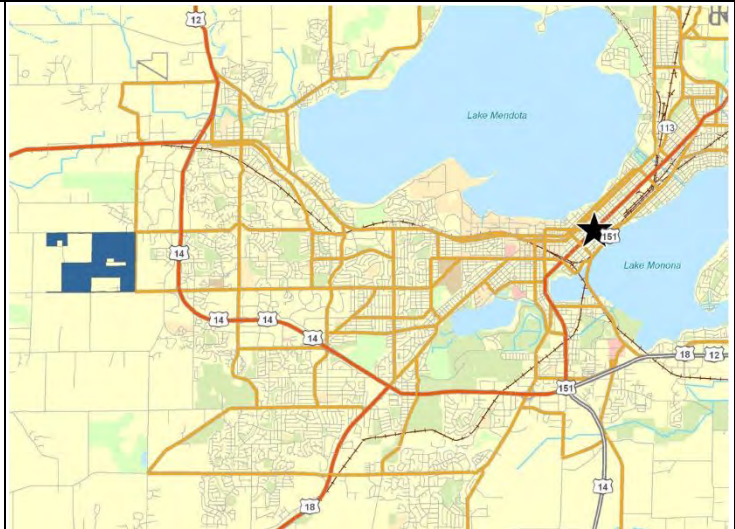

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 586 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2012

Gammon Planning District

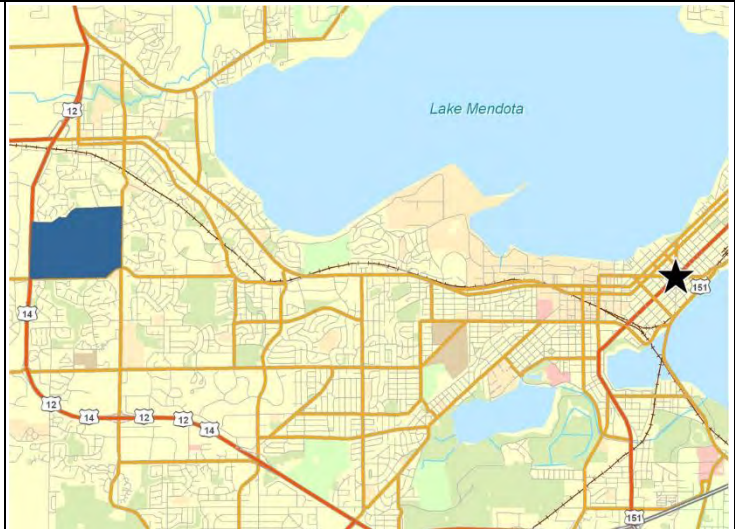

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 432 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2012

Greentree Planning District

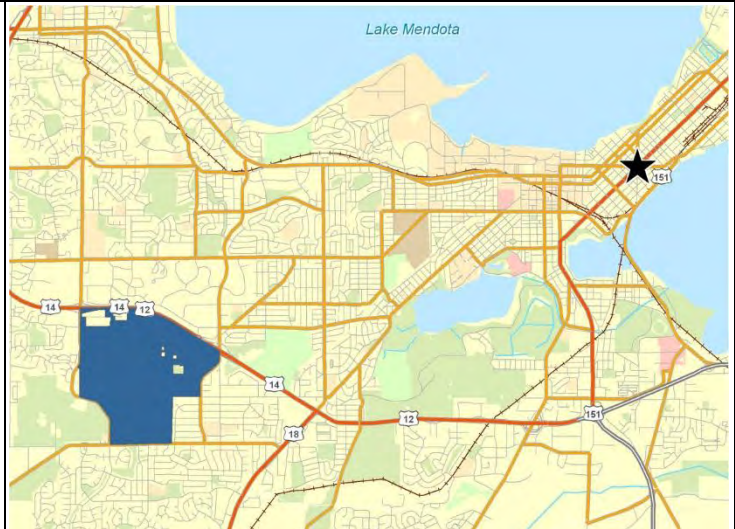

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 977 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2012

Highpoint Planning District

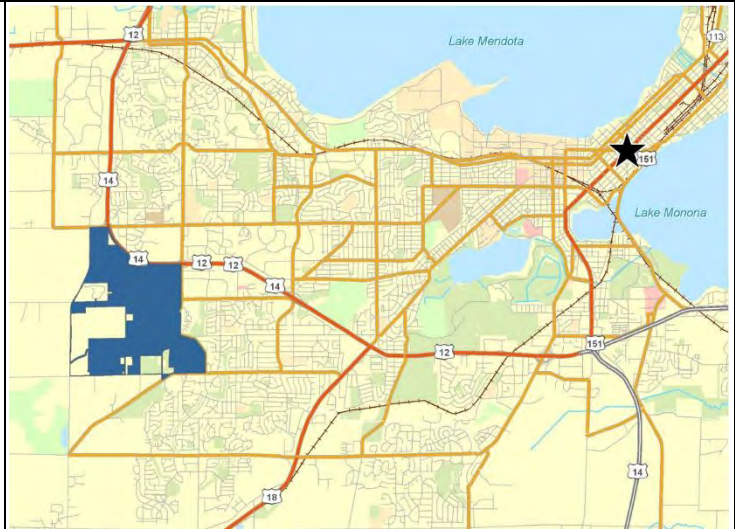

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 1,189 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2012

Marlborough Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 275 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2012

Midtown Planning District

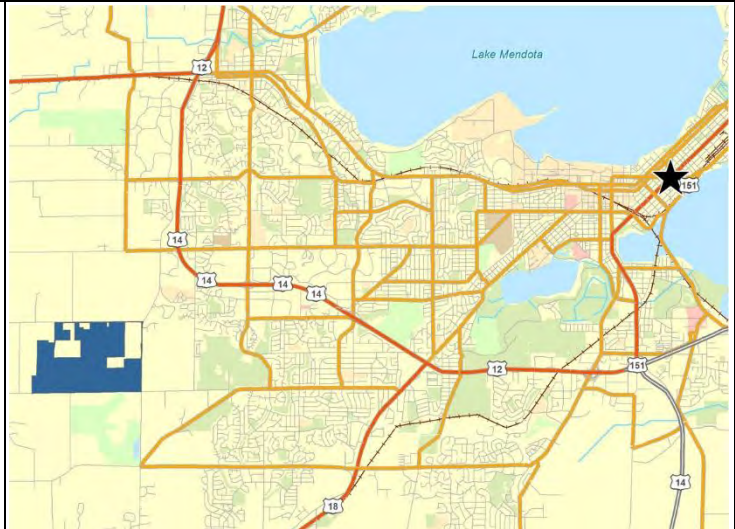

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 733 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2012

Nakoma Planning District

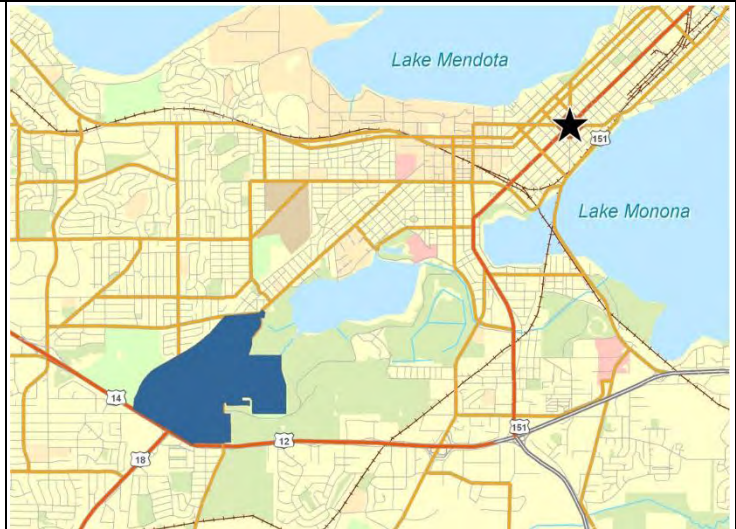

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 564 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr* Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2012

Pumpkin Hollow Westchester Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Total Area: 1,251 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

spr* Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2012

Sauk Point Planning District

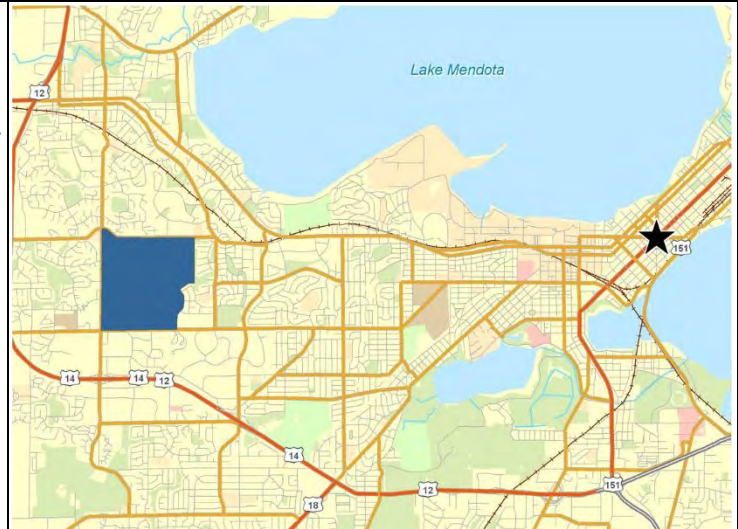

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 600 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2012

Sprecher Planning District

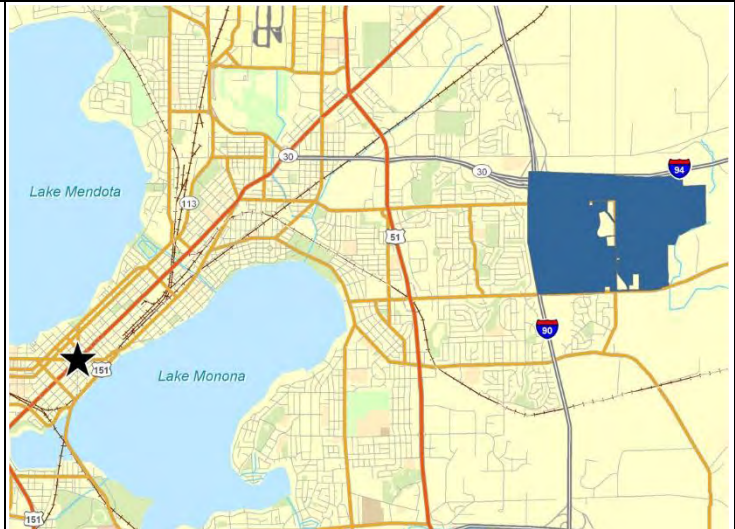

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 1,356 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2012

Sycamore Planning District

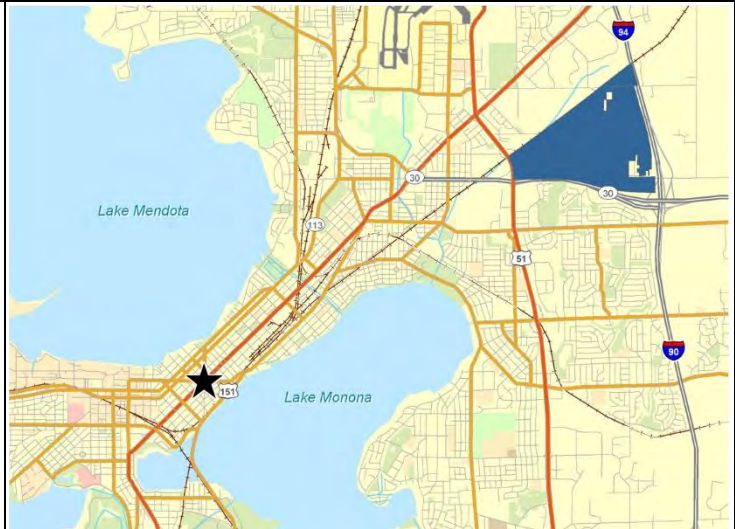

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 803 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2012

University Hills Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 581 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2012

Warner Park Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 634 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr* Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr* Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr* Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr* Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr* Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr* Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr* Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr* Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.
