Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2013

Allis Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 457 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Blackhawk Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 411 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 277 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2013

Cross Country Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 1,030 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2012 indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2013

East-Morland Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 721 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Gammon Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 432 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Gompers Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 454 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2013

Highpoint Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 1,189 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Lakeview Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 428 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2013

Midtown Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Boundary change from previous year: Yes

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2013

Orchard Ridge Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 744 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Pumpkin Hollow Westchester Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 1,251 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2012 indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2013

Sprecher Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 1,355 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Sycamore Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 803 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2013

University Hills Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 581 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2013

Warner Park Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 634 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Aldermanic District:

The neighborhood is within district(s) 10,14 and is represented by Alders(s) Maurice Cheeks, John Strasser.

Total Area: 218 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: Yes

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Capitol Neighborhoods

Neighborhood Organization:

Information about the Capitol Neighborhoods can be found at:
<http://www.cityofmadison.com/neighborhoods/profile/14.html>

Aldermanic District:

The neighborhood is within district(s) 2, 4, 6, 8 and is represented by Alders(s) Ledell Zellers, Michael Verveer, Marsha Rummel, Scott Resnick.

Total Area: 456 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Country Grove Neighborhood Assn.

Neighborhood Organization:

Information about the Country Grove Neighborhood Assn. can be found at:

<http://www.cityofmadison.com/neighborhoods/profile/117.html>

Aldermanic District:

The neighborhood is within district(s) 7 and is represented by Alders(s) Steve King.

Total Area: 131 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Aldermanic District:

The neighborhood is within district(s) 12 and is represented by Alders(s) Larry Palm.

Total Area: 326 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. #### Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Monona Bay Neighborhood Assn.

Neighborhood Organization:

Information about the Monona Bay Neighborhood Assn. can be found at:
<http://www.cityofmadison.com/neighborhoods/profile/152.html>

Aldermanic District:

The neighborhood is within district(s) 13 and is represented by Alders(s) Sue Ellingson.

Total Area: 85 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Aldermanic District:

The neighborhood is within district(s) 10,19,20 and is represented by Alders(s) Maurice Cheeks, Mark Clear, Matt Phair.

Total Area: 562 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2013 indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

*: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these are not for the entire student population.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.
