Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2015

Allis Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 457 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2015

Blackhawk Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 411 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Capitol Square Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 277 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2015

Cross Country Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 1,030 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2015

East-Morland Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 719 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2015

Fair Oaks Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 568 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Gompers Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 454 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2015

Highlands Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 423 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Junction Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 459 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2015

Marquette Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 529 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2015

Milwaukee Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 929 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2015

Near West Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 304 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Pioneer Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 1,022 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: Yes

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2015

Raymond Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 952 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

South Shore Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 375 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2015

Spring Harbor Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 497 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Cells containing "spr*" indicate that data have been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This means there was a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 2,350 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Notes

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Madison Neighborhood Indicators 2015

University Ridge Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 685 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Time series data: In some instances year to year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Waunona Way Planning District

Madison Planning Districts:

Planning districts are delineated by the City of Madison Planning and Development Office. They are designed to provide data at a useful scale with full coverage of the city. Their boundaries were originally derived from census tract boundaries and they generally include portions of several neighborhoods and alder districts.

Total Area: 247 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

n/a: Cells containing "n/a" indicate that the rate or figure is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Aldermanic District:

The neighborhood is within district(s) 10 and is represented by Alders(s) Maurice Cheeks.

Total Area: 218 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Aldermanic District:

The neighborhood is within district(s) 16 and is represented by Alders(s) Denise DeMarb.

Total Area: 700 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Aldermanic District:

The neighborhood is within district(s) 15 and is represented by Alders(s) David Ahrens.

Total Area: 254 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Aldermanic District:

The neighborhood is within district(s) 14 and is represented by Alders(s) Sheri Carter.

Total Area: 122 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

Aldermanic District:

The neighborhood is within district(s) 19 and is represented by Alders(s) Mark Clear.

Total Area: 373 Acres

Boundary change from previous year: No

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.

spr*: Value has been suppressed to protect confidentiality. This occurs when there is a count of five or fewer in the category shown or five or fewer in the counterpart of the category shown, the latter being derivable from the percentage. Correspondence between some neighborhood associations and planning district geographies required suppression of these data for neighborhood geographies.

Note: Any areas of a neighborhood boundary that lie outside the City of Madison are not included in the map or the table below.

The Madison Neighborhood Indicators project seeks to quantify the diverse and changing social conditions in Madison neighborhoods. The project staff has endeavored to provide up to date measures each year, bringing together data from a variety of sources and compiling them into a suite of variables used to generate neighborhood level profile reports.

To provide a demographic context to the year-to-year indicator data, a population profile sourced from U.S. decennial censuses of 2000 and 2010 is shown directly below. The annually updated indicators are shown on page two of the profile. Definitions for Census and 2015 edition indicator items can be found on pages three through six.

Notes:

Time series data: In some instances year-to-year variation in counts and rates will reflect changes in the variable definition, geocoding success, or neighborhood boundaries. Data definitions for previous years can be found here: <http://madison.apl.wisc.edu/definitions.php>

1: Student and parent education data are from the Madison Metropolitan School District and show figures for MMSD students or students' households as available; in some instances these represent only a subset of the MMSD student population. See definitions for details.

2: Current year data source and/or tabulation method differ(s) from previous year. See definitions for details.

3: Multi-year estimate. See definitions for details.

n/a: Value is not applicable or not available for the reference year.
